

India's Leap into Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS) Consortium: A Catalyst for Sustainable Energy Revolution

Neeraj Kumar Singal

28,606 followers

Published Dec 8, 2023

India's entry into the Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS) bloc, an initiative by the Global Leadership Council, is all set to transform its energy scene.

It will bring about substantial improvements in grid stability, the integration of renewable energy, cost reduction, electric mobility, job creation, and energy security.

This strategic step aligns with the country's dedication to constructing a greener, more sustainable, and resilient energy future.